Summit

Introduction

2008

October 17-18
Yakima Washington

Introduction to Summit

The goal of the Prevention Summit is to provide an enriching educational and networking opportunity for youth, volunteers and professionals working toward prevention of substance abuse and violence. We want to reach the continuum of individuals - youth and adults - from highly experienced to new in the field and continue to build on our foundation of success in Washington State.

History

The prevention community in Washington State has been convening annually since the 1980's. The initial conferences were held in Ellensburg, Washington, on the campus of Central Washington University. The conferences were known as "family focus" meetings, and soon after became known as the annual "Building a Vision" conference. After a few name changes in the late 1990's, the annual conference was renamed in 1999 as the Washington State Prevention Summit.

Despite changes over time in name, location and leadership planning, the spirit of the annual Summit has remained constant. It is the one time during the year when the prevention community can come together, reflect on the past year's successes, learn new strategies, and network with a variety of people—including parents, children, teachers, law enforcement officials, prevention professionals, treatment providers, policymakers, college faculty, students and dedicated volunteers who are all interested in preventing alcohol, tobacco and other drug abuse in Washington State.

Celebrating Success: Awards Ceremony Luncheon

Friday 11:45 - 1:00 pm, YCC-Room D/E

Awards presented by Lieutenant Governor Brad Owen (Please see Luncheon Program)

Brad Owen was elected as Washington State's 15th lieutenant governor in 1996 and re-elected in 2000 and 2004. Lieutenant Governor Owen has dedicated his term of service to provide leadership in the field of public health and safety, with an emphasis on substance abuse and prevention.

Thank You Yakama Nation Tribal School Drummers!

Spotlight

Professional Networking Soirée

Thursday 6:30 - 8:30 pm, YCC-Room E

Hosted by the Prevention Specialist Certification Board of Washington

Join your colleagues in an evening reception of networking and building collaborations. This is an excellent opportunity to come together and see partners from across the state and enhance your prevention partnerships.

Graphic Recording

Recording provided by Dana C. Boales

Graphic recording is the art of creating a real-time visual record of a conversation, presentation, business meeting, focus group or keynote speech. Graphic recorders transform key concepts into images, words and metaphors. Real-time graphic recording adds life to group meetings and helps all participants visualize key concepts, challenges and solutions.

Service Learning Projects

Friday
Blue Group 9:00 - 11:45 am
Green Group 1:00 - 4:00 pm

This year youth will participate in service learning projects in the Yakima area. Youth will experience first hand the value and power of working on a team and providing important service in the community. Participants of the youth leadership track will be assigned to either the blue or green group for the Summit. (For more information see page 14)

Show Off Your Spirit at the Prevention Jam!

Friday 4:45 - 6:00 pm, Meet at YCC Main Entrance (Lobby 3)

After a busy day of planning and activities, youth and adults will gather together at the Prevention Jam, an outdoor rally, to demonstrate commitment to improving our communities. Rally leaders include MC and master magician Brad Barton, Attorney General Rob McKenna, Gear-Up with Music Swinomish youth group, Miss Washington and youth leader extraordinaire Takara Taylor. Grab a friend, grab a mentor and grab a sign – then make some noise at the 2008 Prevention Jam!

Native American Storytelling

Friday 7:15 - 8:15 pm, YCC-Room F

Hosted by Elizabeth Henry - Yakama Nation Elder

Join us for a compelling evening of storytelling with Yakama Nation Elder, Elizabeth Henry, as she shares stories of her family and relations. She has worked for Yakama Nation for over 30 years and is proud to have five generations in Washington. We are honored to have her at the Summit.

Youth Team & Team Advisors

New this year in the Youth Leadership Track, youth will be able to participate as a team to create a community project plan. Once back in their communities, teams can implement the plan with the tools received at the Prevention Summit. (For more information see page 16)

Adult Keynotes

October 17-18
Yakima Washington

Andrew Fish

Friday 9:15 - 10:15 am YCC-Room E

Getting Our Work Done Through Substantial Partnerships

Chief John R. Batiste - Washington State Patrol

An opportunity to learn about strategies for local coalitions to partner with law enforcement agencies to enhance prevention efforts in our communities.

Community and National Partnerships in Medicine Abuse Prevention

Andrew Fish, JD - Consumer Healthcare Products Association

A review of how medicine manufacturers have come together with community and national anti-drug abuse advocates to develop robust outreach, awareness, and education campaigns to help prevent medicine abuse.

Saturday 9:00 - 10:15 am YCC-Room E

The Neuroscience of Prevention

Ruben Baler, PhD - National Institute on Drug Abuse, NIH

There is no doubt that information is power. The knowledge generated by addiction research in recent years offers profound insights that can be used to greatly enhance our efforts to reduce the prevalence and effects of substance abuse and addiction, particularly among the nation's youth.

Ruben Baler

LaMar Hudson

Saturday 12:00 - 1:30 pm YCC-Room D/E

Leading Prevention into the Future Together

(combined with Youth)

LaMar Hudson - A Positive Message for Life

Using his engagement with youth and music to bring the conference to a close, Lamar Hudson will discuss the value of "keeping life fresher, and not giving into pressure" (full description on pg. 15).

Concurrent Forums Friday 10:30 - 11:30 am

New Science of Decision-Making

Ruben Baler, PhD - National Institute on Drug Abuse, NIH

YCC-Room F

How are recent findings in neuroscience helping us understand the complex processes that lead to experimentation with, abuse of and then addiction to various psychoactive substances? The presentation will leverage new scientific information, particularly in the area of brain development and decision making.

"I didn't expect that!" How What We Think Alcohol Does Affects What We Do

Jason Kilmer, PhD - University of Washington

YCC-Room H

Researchers in the University of Washington's BARLAB have looked at what happens when people think they are getting alcohol but actually receive nonalcoholic drinks. Learn about the surprising findings from this and other research, and consider implications for prevention and education.

Prevention Works!

Brad Barton, CPP - Brad Barton Presentations, Inc.

YCC-Room G

From an upbeat look at the brief history of prevention, to latest greatest best practices, this presentation leaves you inspired to help youth make constructive life choices. Children of Incarcerated Parents: Challenges & Supports

Miriam Bearse, MA – Department of Social & Health Services &

Tina Burrell, MA, CDP – DASA

Do you work with or care for youth who have parents who are or have been in jail or prison? These youth and parents have specific experiences and needs that are often overlooked. Parents with incarceration history have specific needs to help them become effective parents. At the same time, families of the incarcerated often have great resilience. Please come and hear more about this, and discuss these issues with others interested in or impacted by parental incarceration.

Obtaining Your Prevention Professional Certification

Jackie Jamero Berganio, CPP – King County Alcohol & Other Drug Prevention Program, Gunthild Sondhi, MEd, CPP – Prevention Specialist Certification Board of Washington (PSCBW), Liz Wilhelm, CADP, ICPS – Office of Children's Affairs & Prevention, Human Services, Snohomish County, Linda Nelson, CPP – Prevention Center, NW ESD 189, & Juliet Kandel, OCPS II – Committee for Children

As science and research continue to provide us with new information that enhances our ability to serve our communities, it is an exciting time to be a prevention practitioner! This workshop will provide you with the information needed to apply for and obtain your professional certification; and the opportunity to ask questions and seek advice from current PSCBW Board members.

Comprehensive Extended Workshops

Room F Yakima Convention Center

Cutting Edge Coalition Leadership (Part 1 of 2)

David Shavel, MBA – CADCA's National Coalition Institute

Effective coalition leadership is essential to achieving and sustaining population-level change in a community. Successful coalitions take intentful and proactive steps to build effective leadership. This workshop, based on the principles of transformational leadership, provides cutting edge tools and techniques to enhance coalition leadership. Participants will clarify roles within their coalitions and identify ways to cultivate and strengthen leadership in their coalition.

Room G Yakima Convention Center

The High Cost of Adverse Childhood Experiences (Part 1 of 2)

Susan Martin, MS – ESD 105, Marjorie Miller – ESD 105 & Cathy Kelley – ESD 105

Leading edge science transforms our understanding of how to serve children and families. This presentation will review the latest brain research and health studies related to understanding how adverse childhood experience shapes the individual, drives high cost social problems, and becomes a determinant of health across the lifespan. This presentation will also provide you with an update of current ACE projects in Washington and how you can make a difference.

Room H Yakima Convention Center

Evidence-Based Kernels to Influence Community-Wide Risk & Protective Factors (Part 1 of 2)

Dennis Embry, PhD – PAXIS Institute

Evidence-base kernels are scientifically proven, fundamental units of behavioral influence. Kernels are typically easy to explain, easy to use and have rapid effects. They clearly affect risk and protective factors impacting child development, adolescence and young adults. Kernels can be deployed as an environmental strategy to affect community-level indicators. This workshop maps kernels for infants and children (Part 1) and adolescents and young adults (Part 2) to documented risk and protective factors, and then details environmental strategies for kernels to produce large gains in prevention for everyone.

Addressing Diversity Issues in Evidence-Based Parenting Programs

Kelly Baze – Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe, Linda Robledo – Port Gamble S'Klallam Tribe, Nancy Fiander – White Swan SPF-SIG, & Lauri Turkovsky, EdD – SPF-SIG Consultant

This panel will discuss strategies used to recruit and retain participation from diverse populations in a variety of evidence-based parenting programs, including Strengthening Families 10-14, Guiding Good Choices, and Parenting Wisely. Additionally, the panel will share strategies that have been employed to make the instruction, registration forms, and pre- and post-testing forms more culturally appropriate and relevant.

Second-Hand Smoke Law & Prevention Efforts

Paul Davis, MS – Washington State Department of Health

In December 2005, Washington State enacted a law that prohibits smoking in places of employment and public places. Nearly three years later, we are able to measure the impacts that the law has had on exposure to second-hand smoke among Washington residents. Has there been any benefit to ATOD prevention efforts because of this law's passage? Determining cause/effect relationships will take additional study, but there are some interesting correlations appearing that we will share in this presentation.

East Ballroom Red Lion

Building a Diverse Funding Base: A Workshop for Youth & Parent Serving Programs

Yolonda Sindé, MA – Yolonda Sindé Consulting

Join me to learn the key components of a sustainable resource development plan. During the workshop we will debunk the myths about fund-raising and participants will learn the foundation for successful resource development planning; how to conduct research to identify potential contributors; making the case for your program; relationship building; and making the ask.

West Ballroom Red Lion

Pathological Gambling: Epidemiology, Prevention & Treatment

Michael Campos, PhD – UCLA Gambling Studies Program

Dr. Campos will discuss risk factors for problem gambling, novel approaches to treatment of pathological gambling, and how to translate research into cost-effective, evidence-based prevention education, and treatment practices.

How to Involve the Media in Prevention Campaigns

*Robert W. Denniston, MA – Office of National Drug Control Policy &
Deb Schnellman – Department of Social and Health Services*

Media campaigns are a valuable tool to prevent teen alcohol and other drug use. While many excellent messages and materials are available from the National Youth Anti-Drug Media Campaign and the Partnership for a Drug-Free America, few preventionists know how to access them and get them distributed through media outlets. This workshop will show the latest materials and provide proven tips on how best to work with media to increase their visibility and impact.

Marketing through Media: I Have a Story to Tell

Juergen Kneifel – Program Consultant

Participants in this workshop will learn how to partner with local media in order to share stories of success and strengthen their program's brand. Whether through publicity (press releases) or donated advertising (PSAs, print ads) or even in partnership with a company committed to social marketing, there are tremendous ways to get your story told in order to generate growth in volunteer recruitment and new funding streams.

Triple P Positive Parenting Program: A Public Health Approach Towards Providing Effective Parenting Interventions

Sue Kerns, PhD – University of Washington Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences

In this workshop, participants will learn about the public health approach of the Triple P Positive Parenting Program and receive an overview of the varying levels of intervention intensity (with a focus on the brief, lower intensity and widely applicable Level 2/3) and program variants available for special populations (e.g., child abuse and neglect, youth with developmental disabilities, teens, and Spanish-speaking families). Current research will be presented and participants will have an opportunity to ask questions, have a group discussion of the implications of this type of model and peruse program materials.

Selecting and Implementing Environmental Strategies

David Shavel, MBA – CADCA's National Coalition Institute

Environmental strategies incorporate prevention efforts aimed at changing or influencing community conditions, standards, institutions, structures, systems and policies. This workshop will clarify the role of the coalition and describe how environmental strategies can be used to achieve community-level changes in substance abuse. Coalitions will be able to use their community logic model to identify specific environmental strategies and determine the conceptual fit and relevance of the potential strategies for their community. Participants will be able to create a comprehensive set of strategies that can impact the local conditions and identify best practices that will ensure the effective implementation (best fit) of environmental strategies.

We're Taking the Gloves Off in Exposing the Harms of Pornography

If you want to prepare young people for healthy, fulfilling marriages, you can't just talk about passion and purity. You've got to talk about porn. The simple truth is that the pornography industry is making billions of dollars at the expense of young people.

Porn is addictive. And destructive. It contributes to earlier sexual activity. And it's just a website, pop-up or email away from young people. But two hours in the classroom could save them years of heartache in their futures.

ILLUSIONS is an eye-opening 2-hour PowerPoint presentation for grades 8-12 that dramatically exposes the harmful effects of porn.

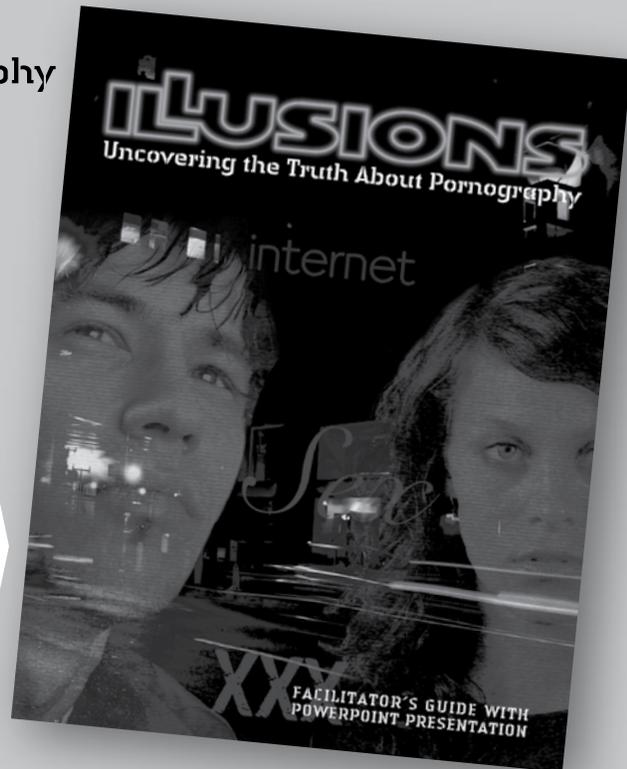

Through appropriate, guided interactions, students learn how porn warps the brain's perceptions of sex, love and intimacy. Best of all, armed with this knowledge, they become prepared to resist its allure, preserve their purity and pursue healthy relationships.

Are You Adequately Equipping Your Community's Young People?

ILLUSIONS is a program of AWARE | 10621 NE Coxley Drive, Suite 101 | Vancouver, WA 98662

For more information call 360-699-2384 or visit www.illusionsprogram.net

Sponsored by AWARE and CBAE project #90AE0099 from the ACF, FYSB and DHHS.

Youth Activities Highlights

Chaperones must attend YMCA activities with youth!

Evening Youth Activities

National Guard Ropes Course – Thursday 6:30 - 8:30 pm

Show us what your team is all about at the National Guard Ropes Course Activity. You'll have tons-o-fun with all the games that will be available, and don't forget to warm up your vocal pipes for some karaoke!

(YCC-Room A/B)

Ice Cream Social – Thursday 8:30 - 9:30 pm

Join us for our ice cream social where you can build your own sundae, hang out with old friends and meet new friends. (YCC-Room B)

YMCA Activities – Friday 7:00 - 9:00 pm

The YMCA will open the doors to the Prevention Summit youth on Friday from 7-9 pm. Join us and enjoy a fun filled evening of activities such as Dance Dance Revolution, Rock Band, sports fitness wall, foosball, pool, and basketball. Participants MUST wear conference name badge for entry to the YMCA.

Dancing, Games & Crafts – Friday 8:30 - 10:30 pm

Come and show us your moves on the dance floor. The DJ will be playing all your favorite hits and light snacks will be available. There will also be plenty of games and activities including a fun and entertaining movie to enjoy.

(YCC Dance Rm A/B; Games Suite 400; Movie Suite 500)

Mandatory Chaperone Meetings

YCC - Suite 300

Thursday, Oct. 16, 8:30 - 9:30pm

Friday, Oct. 17, 7:45 - 8:30am

All Chaperones and Youth Team Adult Advisors are required to attend one of the two Chaperone Meetings at the Yakima Convention Center to receive important information to utilize during the Summit.

Service Learning Projects –

Friday Blue Group 9:00 - 11:45 am Green Group 1:00 - 4:00 pm

Service Learning Projects are a fun way to help out in our communities. On Friday, October 17, youth teams will be going out into the Yakima community to have a great time participating in a variety of service projects. You are advised to wear comfortable clothing and tennis shoes for all project sites. Wear clothing that you don't mind getting dirty, as you will be working with planting materials and paint!

Barge-Lincoln Elementary – Bus 1

We need some green thumbs at this project site as students will be doing some fun landscaping and planting trees. No green thumbs? Come anyway, there's going to be creative painting projects too.

YWCA Yakima – Bus 2

The YWCA is all about empowering women and girls, building self-sufficient women, eliminating family violence, embracing diversity and maximizing partnerships. A little landscaping around the building will make the Yakima YWCA building as nice and welcoming on the outside as it is on the inside.

Family Shelter – Bus 3

Nothing brings a little more life and new energy to an old building like a fresh coat of paint on the interior walls. Youth teams participating in this project will have the opportunity to help beautify the inside of the YWCA Family Shelter.

Northwest Harvest Food Bank – Bus 3

Monthly deliveries are made to the Yakima warehouse from all across Washington. To better serve the local customers, the Northwest Harvest Food Bank needs assistance in organization and inventory of all the products they have received.

Garfield Elementary School – Bus 4

Come help make the home of the Garfield Tigers a fun and creative place to walk. Teams participating will assist the elementary students as they plaster cute little handprints all over their school walls. Or you can have fun painting the school logo on the wall or help spruce up the play area.

Harmon Senior Center – Bus 5

At the Harmon Senior Center, for better visibility and safety for the seniors, the youth volunteers will be painting lines in the parking lot. They will also be doing some light landscaping.

Youth Keynotes

Takara Taylor

Friday YCC-Room C
Green Group 9:10 - 9:40 am
Blue Group 1:15 - 1:45 pm

“What have you got yourself into?”

Takara Taylor – Harford Community College

Takara Taylor will talk about the reasons why you are here, what you will accomplish, and what you can do in your own communities! She will share her enthusiasm and excitement about the issues facing young people, and what we can do to make a change.

Get READY! EXCITED! PUMPED-UP! Let’s have some FUN and MAKE A DIFFERENCE!

Overview of Strategic Prevention Framework

Teresa Bishop – Community Anti-Drug Coalitions of America

The keynote will provide an overview of the basics about community organizing to reduce substance abuse utilizing the Strategic Prevention Framework. The discussion will include an overview of the five steps used to successfully implement the Strategic Prevention Framework: assessment, capacity, planning, implementation, and evaluation.

Brad Barton

Saturday 9:00 - 10:15 am YCC-Room C
Got Magic?

Brad Barton, CPP – Brad Barton Presentations, Inc.

Ready for a high energy magical experience that will leave you entertained and inspired? Brad teaches that the techniques magicians use on stage to create fun can disguise dangerous illusions in the real world. This fast-paced presentation is filled with magic, personal stories and practical guidance. Whether leading your peer group, serving your community, or building a rewarding personal life, you already possess the magic you’ll need to create a bright and successful future.

LaMar Hudson

Saturday 12:00 - 1:30 pm YCC-Room D/E
Leading Prevention into the Future Together (combined with Adults)

LaMar Hudson – A Positive Message for Life

Youth from student groups, Naches Valley Community Coalition, Students Protesting Lies About Tobacco - SPLAT!, and Shelton High School - SADD will give brief presentations of the community project plans they have developed during the Summit. Using his engagement with youth and music to bring the conference to a close, Lamar Hudson will discuss the value of “keeping life fresher, and not giving into pressure”. LaMar will demonstrate the value in adults and youth working together. He will use his talents as a motivational speaker and rap artist to encourage all of us to forge into the future to create healthier and safer communities.

Youth 1 & 2 Workshops

Friday October 17, 2008

Green Group 9:50 - 10:55 am
Blue Group 1:55 - 3:00 pm

The youth will be divided into two groups; the Green Group and the Blue Group. Group assignments will be indicated on name tag.

Group Rotation Schedule

The youth leadership track will have a busy and energy-filled day. Please dress comfortably and wear tennis shoes. Be sure to check the weather forecast. The weather can change quickly so bring a jacket.

Following the morning Opening Session, the Green Group will stay at the Yakima Convention Center and attend workshops. At 9:00 a.m., the Blue Group will board their assigned bus for their selected Service Learning Project site in front of the Yakima Convention Center. Buses will be going to different locations. It is very important that each Blue Group member get on their assigned bus. Both groups will reconvene at the Yakima Convention Center for lunch.

Following lunch, the two groups will rotate. The Blue Group will attend workshops at the Yakima Convention Center. The Green Group will board the buses at 1:00 p.m. to attend their Service Learning Projects. It is very important that each Green Group member get on their assigned bus. Both groups will reconvene for the Prevention Jam!

Workshops 1 & 2

Youth will select a topic and attend workshop 1 and workshop 2 in the same room. Review descriptions of workshop sets on pages 17-19. Workshop 1 will provide information on a topic and workshop 2 will give an example of a youth project on that topic. Please review both descriptions and ensure you have selected a set that you will enjoy. There will not be time to switch rooms between workshops 1 and 2. Following workshops 1 and 2, all youth teams should go to Team Project Planning.

The Effects of Substances on the Heart Information

Jeanie Jackson – Choctaw Nation - Lifetime Legacy & Lisa Rusher – Choctaw Nation - Lifetime Legacy

This workshop is meant to show the effects substances can have on the heart and body. Substance abuse is on the rise in Indian Country. Many dangerous drugs are threatening the health, vitality and future productivity of the next generation of Indian Leaders. Meth, in particular, poses the greatest threat and is targeted in this presentation.

T.E.A.M. Teens Empowered Against Meth Example

Andrea Jerabek – Safe Streets Campaign

TEAM has been working in Peninsula High School, Gig Harbor, WA, for at least three school years. It consists of high school students who get trained on the subject of methamphetamines and their impact on the individual and communities. They take that information and present it to classmates and community members in a presentation that includes a PowerPoint, brief video, and interactive games to involve the audience. In this workshop we will give a brief overview of how TEAM works and how you, too, can bring this program to your local schools and community.

Getting Focused to Prevent Prescription Drug Abuse Information

David Scratchley, MD

The face of drug abuse and addiction is changing in our communities. Today, it is all too common for students to be offered prescription drugs like the painkillers oxycontin and vicodin, or the stimulant adderall. Misused or diverted prescription medications have become one of the most dangerous types of drug use in our communities often resulting in serious or even lethal overdoses by attending this workshop, you will gain a quick, useful understanding of the most commonly abused prescription drugs, their physical and psychological effects, and the real possibility of becoming addicted to these medications. Become aware of the most frequently abused prescription medications, how they are used, and the impact these drugs have on the user and their community.”

A Community United Against Drugs Example

Gail Manahan – Ryans Solution & Kay Reimers – Ryans Solution

Ryan’s Solution is a grassroots community coalition with a purpose to eliminate all drugs, including prescription drug use and drug dealing in the Lake Stevens School District. Participants will learn how this coalition began, and how it has been growing, so they can use this model for their community.

Underage Drinking Information

Ruben Baler, PhD – National Institute on Drug Abuse, NIH

How are recent findings in neuroscience helping us understand the complex processes that lead to experimentation with, abuse of and then addiction to various psychoactive substances? This presentation will leverage new scientific information, particularly in the area of brain development and decision making to help the audience understand the important concepts that should prove useful in the prevention of risky behaviors, such as drinking and smoking.

Shoulder Taps Program Example

Raul Almeida – Hanford Patrol

The Shoulder Tap Program is an enforcement program that local law enforcement use to detect and deter shoulder tap activity. A minor volunteer solicits adults outside a licensed off-premises sales business or liquor store to buy alcohol for the minor volunteer. Anyone who furnishes alcohol to the minor volunteer is issued a written warning, cited, or booked. The goals of the program are (1) to reduce underage consumption of, and access to, alcohol by deterring adults from furnishing to minors outside of licensed premises; (2) to partner with local law enforcement to enforce underage drinking laws; and (3) to raise public awareness about the problem of furnishing.

Getting Teen Opinions on Anti-Drug Campaigns Information

Robert W. Denniston, MA – Office of National Drug Control Policy &

Deb Schnellman – Department of Social and Health Services

Want to see and comment on new TV anti-drug ads before they go on the air? This interactive session will ask the opinions of teens about new ads from the National Youth Anti-Drug Media Campaign and show how they compare to teens from across the nation. Tests such as this provide important feedback in the development of anti-drug ads and other campaign materials.

Media & You Example

Claire Beach – Medowdale High School, Edmonds School District

What does Media Literacy mean to teens? How can teens harness the power of the media? This workshop will provide a better understanding of what Media Literacy is and how teens can use it effectively. This workshop will provide examples of media teens have produced; such as PSAs and Anti-Ads, and Video Poems. Teens will have a better understanding of how other teens have effectively used media, and how to create their own messages and in the process, finding a voice.

Internet Safety & MySpace Information

Lynn Mock – Gig Harbor Police Department

How can the internet compromise your safety? Find out how innocent comments might lead a predator to your door step. See how making comments on MySpace could hinder your chances of getting into the college you want or the job of your dreams.

“How did you know?”... “It’s on your MySpace!”... Example

Amy Cheney – Lewis County Social Services

So you’ve learned how the internet can compromise your reputation, safety and future. Stay and learn about what Lewis County is doing around internet safety and education. It’s easy to see what happens in and near your zip codes. ANYONE can monitor your MySpace, Facebook or other social networking sites. In this workshop you’ll learn ways to protect yourself against internet predators, and get tips on appropriate site material so you don’t compromise yourself.

A Mess or a Success Information

LaMar Hudson – A Positive Message for Life

This program challenges students to think about the choices they make. It encourages them to become a success by making the right choices, and to not become a mess by making the wrong choices. Some of life’s greatest lessons are learned from the choices we make.

Destination Graduation Example

Christy Challender – New Horizons High School, Pasco School District & Sue Edmunson, CTE – New Horizons High School, Pasco School District

An exciting, interactive presentation sharing what one class of high school students created to encourage every student to graduate from high school. Through community partnerships and collaboration, the media campaign they created was meant to keep it real, keep it right and keep it moving forward. It has included: radio, TV, music video and personal community presentations. Students drive, lead and produce it all—keeping it “real.”

How the Adolescent Brain Deals with Pressure Information

Janet Matthews, MS, FNP, WHCNP – School-Based Health Center Program

The field of adolescent brain development has exploded over the past decade. We will explore how to best utilize this relatively new data and what brain development studies reveal about gender differences. This presentation will provide an overview of adolescence brain development processes and discuss how they impact adolescent decision-making, behaviors and interactions.

Life Savers Example

Renee Tinder – Youth Suicide Prevention Program, Wendy Ross, MEd – Counselor for East Valley High School & East Valley High School Life Savers Team

A team of youth from East Valley High School in Yakima will present their efforts in their school and its successes and challenges. Renee Tinder, from the Youth Suicide Prevention Program, will also discuss signs & symptoms of youth depression and suicide and give three basic steps to getting help.

Media Messages: Using the media to change hearts and minds

Claire Beach – Medowdale High School, Edmonds School District

During this workshop teens will be given a PSA Planning Tool and a handout on Propaganda and Advertising Techniques. These will help teens have a better understanding how to begin to implement the production of a PSA. Using the provided tools teens will review an effective teen produced PSA. They will then critique the message, effectiveness of product, and determine the intended target audience. This will give the teens an understanding of what messages work. Teens will have the opportunity to review the Drug Free Month, and 2009 Prevention Summit theme, and using the PSA Planning Tool, create and discuss ideas for production and marketing.
